

THEA PDF Analysis Test Document

This is a sample document created for testing the THEA PDF analysis system. The document contains various types of content to demonstrate text extraction capabilities.

Key Features:

- Text extraction from PDF images
- Character counting functionality
- Document type classification
- Content summarization

This document serves as a test case for the Ollama-based AI models to analyze and extract meaningful information from PDF documents automatically.